4.3 Insurance

The table below sets out the target member for the insurance option within TelstraSuper RetireAccess TTR income stream. Default cover conditions and eligibility requirements are subject to those set out in the PDS.

Members transferring from the TelstraSuper Corporate Plus or TelstraSuper Personal Plus product, are able to retain their existing Death insurance cover. Any voluntary Death insurance cover that is transferred from TelstraSuper Corporate Plus is subject to new premium rates.

Death cover	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Members transferring from TelstraSuper Corporate Plus or TelstraSuper Personal Plus who wish to retain their Death cover within the TTR income stream product.• New members who are under 75 years old and who have completed the relevant questions on the application for membership for default Death insurance cover.• Members who are looking for the security of a death benefit payment to provide financial assistance to their dependants when they die (can also be paid if the member has a Terminal Illness), or to afford settlement of their estate via their legal personal representative.• Members under 75 years old who are seeking default Death cover (that do not already have Death cover in another TelstraSuper account) and/or want additional voluntary Death cover.

Exclusions or limitations

While the table above sets out the default cover arrangements for Death insurance cover, certain members do not automatically receive default cover and must complete relevant questions in an insurance declaration and/or complete an application for insurance.

Default cover is based on a member's age next birthday as at the previous 1 July. A member may be eligible to apply to increase their cover, but this may be subject to a health assessment by our insurer or time periods.

If at any time the account balance is below the amount required to pay the insurance premiums, the insurance cover may be cancelled. If this happens, members will need to reapply for Death cover subject to an assessment and acceptance by our insurer.

Default cover conditions and eligibility requirements are subject to those set out in the PDS.
